Christmas Open House

We had 32 visitors at our Open House. It was so nice to be able to see people enjoying refreshments and each other's company again.

Social Media

I posted the question, "What does the Library mean to you?" on our website, Facebook and Twitter pages. The Facebook and Twitter pages allow followers the ability to leave feedback on the page. There is also a link to a Survey Monkey page where an anonymous answer can be submitted. This link also appears on the website. This same question appears on paper slips available on the desk and placed in books. A drop box has been placed on the Circulation Desk to receive responses.

Children's Books

A volunteer is busy discarding children's books and I've begun re-cataloging the holiday books in the Easy Book genre

2024 Fluvanna Free Library Book Challenge

The new Book Challenge sheets have been printed and are available in the Main Room. The Challenge consists of 20 different prompts for book subjects or themes. All 20 or only one (1) can be done with an ereader. The challenge is a great way to get people reading a variety of genres or subjects. A pdf version of the challenge will be available for download on our website by January 6th.

December Windstorm

Our library made it through the Christmas weekend windstorm with only one issue...Our American Flag has been torn beyond repair. I have removed it feeling that it was disrespectful to leave a shredded flag on the pole. We do have a new flag to replace it but at this time, I think I'll wait to do so after the worst of the winter weather and winds. Our sign, on the other hand, never lost a letter.
